The annual Hallowe'en party for the children of Grayling will be staged at the high school Saturday night, financed by the Board of Education and conducted by the men on the faculty.

The doors will open at 7:00 and all children are invited free, as well as any adults who care to attend. The center of activity will be the study hall, where at 7:30 the Stanley Marionettes will be presented. This traveling show has been presented in most of the large cities and colleges in Michigan and Grayling is fortunate to have them on hand to help entertain the juvenile population on this particular night. Their show lasts an hour and a half and they have sound equipment so that they can be heard.

As well as the marionette show, which takes an hour and a half it is planned to have a costume parade and an amateur contest as well to fill the time from 8:00 to 10:00. A dance for the high school students is to be arranged also.

MATTER OF TRANSPORTATION WITHIN DISTRICT SETTLED

A special meeting of the voters of Grayling School District Number One was held in the high school assembly room Monday night. It was called by petition to the Board of Education to consider the question of transportation for children living within the school district. After a brief discussion the matter came to a vote and was carried, 57 to 1.

This vote authorizes the school board to set up this service, and they are advertising for bids for three cars or a bus to be used in carrying school children from the vicinity of Lake Margrethe. Only those who are two miles or more from school will be furnished their transportation or a transportation allowance by the Board.

RANDOM THOTS

It has been a long time since we have heard of a Hallowe'en with popcorn, cider, taffy, bobbing apples, "pin the tail on the donkey" and "musical chairs."

Everything may not come to the man who waits, but it does to the man who hustles out and meets it half way.

It used to be that you could recognize every car in Grayling, but there are so many now, and such frequent changes that it is hard to tell who is visiting who.

Money may go further at present, but it's as slow in getting back as it ever was.

What has become of the good old Harvest suppers and Danish dinners that used to be looked forward to. Remember the "punkin' pies, Danish cabbage, baked beans and rullipolse?

An electric clock in Grayling can hardly be depended upon to get you up.

George Granger is having to do his own carpenter work at the City office, as all the carpenters are very much engaged around town.

Most people lose far more money to incompetent friends than to designing crooks.

It's tough on the Hallowe'eners since the decrease of "Chick Sales."

Some people are bragging about having their windows all washed on the outside. It may be a different story by Saturday night.

MILLER-WOLFE

At vows spoken in their own future apartment, over the Hanson Cafe, Miss Jean Miller, daughter of Mrs. Edna Whipple, became the bride of Donald G. Wolfe, on Saturday, October 23rd at 10:30 that evening. Rev. Edgar Flory officiated, while Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, sister-in-law and brother of the bride, attended the couple.

After the services a wedding supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe left on the midnight train for Battle Creek, Detroit, and Canada.

The latter has spent most of her years in Grayling and is popular with the younger set, and while the groom is a more recent resident of the city he has made many friends. Many happy years of married life and congratulations to the newlyweds are extended.

Non-partisan News Letter

By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—A welfare tug-of-war is raging in Michigan this week as the Oct. 29 deadline nears for a showdown on whether a state-wide referendum will be held Nov. 8, 1937 on the new welfare law.

M. S. Van Geison, Flint, state contact man for the county supervisors who are opposing the new plan, has been confident that the quota of 90,000 signatures would be obtained by tomorrow (Friday).

Attorney General Raymond W. Starr has ruled that filing of petitions would prevent the new welfare plan from being put into effect, but it would not stop administration of funds. Michigan spends $8,000,000 a year in old age assistance and $2,000,000 for dependent children. The federal government matches these sums.

The Michigan State Farm Bureau may become a factor in the referendum fight. Among its members are rural county supervisors and superintendents of the poor, many of whom are opposed to the new code whereby Lansing retains centralized supervision over administration of welfare money in each county.

The Farm Bureau holds its annual convention Nov. 11 and 12 at Michigan State College.

Centralized Authority

The trend towards centralization of government at Lansing has been under way for years.

When the legislature in 1937 passed an occupational disease compensation law and a labor relations board act (since vetoed by the governor), it gave more power to State government.

The same inclination to administer affairs of state from Lansing is seen in the legislature's decision increasing state advertising funds from $100,000 to $160,000, but retaining $50,000 for exclusive use of the state administration, the remaining amount to be divided equally between the four tourist associations.

Governor Murphy has predicted the ultimate shift of all state advertising funds to a central agency.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, holding its annual meeting in Grand Rapids, revealed that it had spent from 1929 to 1937 a total of $340,000 in advertising Michigan. Of this amount the state furnished $145,000, the remaining $195,000 coming from private citizens.

Norman H. Hill, executive secretary of the governor, has been given an extra responsibility of spending the extra $50,000 of state advertising money.

Governor's New Predicament

The Detroit C.I.O. mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, has jumped on the New Deal bandwagon, declaring that his election next month will be equivalent to endorsement of President Roosevelt.

Because Detroit's election system is non-partisan and the main issue is between the C.I.O. and the A. F. of L., O'Brien has put Governor Murphy politically "on the spot." So far, the governor has resisted pressure to declare himself for O'Brien. At the annual convention of Young Democrats at Muskegon, he served notice to both factions that while he deplored union-strife his administration would make no attempt to serve as mediator in settlement of their differences.

Norman Thomas, leader of the socialist party in the United States, pronounces his blessing on the C.I.O. campaign and urges organization of a national labor party.

In the meanwhile, Governor Murphy is at White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, taking medical treatment on order of physicians. Always a defender of the Detroit non-partisan plan for elections, he faces a new test in the C.I.O.-New Deal campaign in the motor metropolis.

84 per cent to Worker

In these days of labor unrest—and spiraling commodity prices—have been a contributing factor—industry needs to take the work into a partnership for the management. This was the theme of an address given before the Lansing Industrial Executives' club by Sherman Rogers, lecturer and former editorial writer for Outlook and Liberty.

Why? The economic research division, United States bureau of commerce, has issued a bulletin on "National Income in the United States", which proves that labor receives 84 cents out of every industrial dollar.

In Grand Rapids a threatened strike at the Grand Rapids Brass Works with a resultant loss of valuable business was averted last spring by intelligent management. Russell W. Geyer, president, spoke to employees on "company time" showing them records how the company had paid millions in wages to workers during the depression while the stockholders received very little in dividends.

Geyer, now president of the manufacturers' association there, has taken the employees into a working partnership. Both employees and stockholders are prospering.

Bulldozing tactics will not solve labor unrest. Perhaps Uncle Sam's own findings of what labor gets out of the industrial dollar offer a key to a better understanding between capital and labor. The Grand Rapids incident indicates that it can be achieved.

Insane and Whiskey

Sounding a call for immediate improvement of the state's treatment of handicapped citizens, Governor Murphy declared, prior to leaving for a Virginia spa, that the state should spend from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in a three or four-year program for rehabilitation of state institutions. The lack of adequate housing facilities was given front-page prominence when a hospital building for insane burned at Newberry.

After inspecting the farm colony for epileptics at Wahjamega, Murphy declared: "The most serious problem here is congestion.

The normal capacity is 990 patients; there are 1,015 there. About 600 epileptics at a large state home for feeble-minded should be housed at Wahjamega."

The same legislature which legalized return of the saloon bar also authorized the raising of state liquor prices beginning next Monday (Nov. 1) by 7 per cent. Higher prices are expected to raise $3,000,000 a year—all of which will be set aside for hospital rehabilitation.

Higher whiskey prices thus will help to improve the lot of the insane, the feeble-minded, and the infirm. Temperance advocates may find in this situation an element of moral inconsistency. You will agree that, if a mere co-incidence, it is still unusual.

More State Parks

As further recognition of the importance of state parks to Michigan's tourist industry, the state legislature voted $300,000 for acquisition of land.

The non-partisan state conservation commission has authorized expenditure of $265,000 to buy property in St. Clair, Monroe and Berrien counties. Four hundred acres are being acquired north of the city of Algonac for an ultimate 1,500-acre state park with a 2,000 foot frontage on the St. Clair river.

North of Port-Huron the state is buying a large tract of scenic property on Lake Huron.

The Monroe State park will be expanded by 400 acres.

In Berrien county the Warren Dunes park will be enlarged.

State parks in Oakland and Grand Traverse counties also will be increased in size, it is announced by P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the conservation department.

"Some Beer... Not Fit"

At the same time that the Michigan Brewers' association was proclaiming the merits of Michigan made beer, the president of the Michigan Wholesalers Beer Distributors caused a mild sensation in Lansing where he charged to the state liquor control commission that "some beer sold in this state is not fit for personal consumption."

How the mix-up occurred in beer propaganda campaign is not known.

Thomas F. O'Connor, the beer distributors' leader, declared that lack of proper handling by retailers often made the beer "so bad that a consumer would call for the board of health if he knew what he was drinking."

Repeal of the 18th amendment, while creating new problems, has brought new profits to Michigan cherry growers. Literally hun-

Grayling Hospital On Approved List

2621 HOSPITALS APPROVED IN U. S. AND CANADA

The people of Crawford County and Grayling are very fortunate and should well appreciate the fact that Grayling Mercy Hospital has so proven itself in having lived up to the criteria observed in rating each hospital that it is again approved by the American College of Surgeons to rank as one out of the 2,621 leading hospitals in the United States and Canada. The cities of Grayling, Traverse City and Cadillac are the only places in the northern part of the lower peninsula where hospitals which have been approved can be found.

Chicago, October 25—Officially announcing the 1937 list of 2,621 approved hospitals at the Twentieth Annual Hospital Standardization Conference which opened here this morning with the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. George Crile, Chairman of the Board of Regents, said:

"The 1937 Hospital Standardization survey concludes two decades of successful effort by the American College of Surgeons to assist the hospitals of the United States and Canada in rendering better care of the sick and injured. Today 2,621 hospitals are awarded full or provisional approval. At the end of the first field survey in 1918, only 89 hospitals were sufficiently well equipped, organized and administered to merit approval."

Commenting further upon the survey, Dr. Crile declared:

"The fact that one out of every 14 persons in the United States and Canada went to some hospital in 1936, with the probability that the same ratio will be maintained in 1937, suggests how important hospitals are to every community. At this rate, if we assume that different individuals each year enter hospitals, every 14 years the entire population of this country and Canada will pass through hospitals as patients. Even when it is granted that the same persons are likely to be patient several times during any 14-year period, it is evident the proportion who will be hospitalized is astonishingly large."

"What constitutes a good hospital," Dr. Crile continued, "should therefore be understood by everybody. Through good hospitals medical science is advanced, and constantly better chances of restoration to health afforded patients. Consequently the College regards the announcement of its Approved List as a contribution to progress in health standards, evidencing as it does the hearty cooperation of the hospitals themselves in improving their ability to render efficient care."

Ten main criteria observed in determining the rating of each hospital were summarized by Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, Associate Director of the College, who directs the work of Hospital Standardization, as follows:

- 1 A modern physical plant, assuring the patient's comfort and proper care.
- 2 Clear definition of organization, duties, responsibilities and relations in the hospital's constitution, by-laws, rules and regulation.
- 3 A carefully selected governing board with complete supervisory authority.
- 4 A competent, trained, superintendent responsible to the board for carrying out its policies.
- 5 Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.
- 6 Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians.
- 7 Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.
- 8 Accurate and complete medical records, readily accessible, for research and follow-up.
- 9 Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.
- 10 A humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration is the best care of the patient.

dreds of tons of Michigan-grown cherries are processed each year for decorative use in cocktails. Color and flavor are regulated through a special brine treatment.

The cocktail is worth thousands of dollars to Michigan's cherry crop which in 1937 broke an all-time record with 29,100 tons. New York was second with 21,750 tons. And if a cocktail can do that to Michigan, verily this is a cock-eyed world.

School Notes

A citizenship mark will be given to all members of the upper six grades in the Grayling schools as well as the usual academic mark. This mark will range from the highest, a 1, to the lowest, a 5. It will be given in all classes and put on all report cards. The practice of giving this type of mark is common in Michigan and is designed to reward the good school citizens by real recognition of his superior qualities, as well as giving all students a chance to gauge their conduct as seen by their teachers.

A code for good citizenship has been compiled and is printed here:

- 1—Health and Personal Habits. Interest in cleanliness of person, speech, and thought. Posture—Sitting and walking. Interest in appearance.
- 2 Dependability. Punctual and self-reliant in work. Spends time profitably. Doesn't have to be watched. In class and at school on time. Dependable in co-curricular activities.
- 3 Co-operation. Respect school property. Volunteers readily. Will follow or lead.
- 4 Trustworthiness. Despises cheating. Fulfills all tasks assigned or accepted. Possesses stability of character. Accepts responsibility.
- 5 Courtesy and Sportsmanship. Pupil knows and applies the rules of considerate and courteous treatment of pupils, teachers, caretakers, or visitors. Friendly, cheerful and helpful in group relationships.
- 6 Loyalty Toward Class and School.

More interested in welfare and reputation of group than self. Finds very real satisfaction in any success of group or class.

Enthusiastic participation and support in co-curricular activities.

7 Industry. Diligent in work—Thrifty in use of time and materials.

Volunteers in work—Work well prepared at all times.

Conscientiously works for advancement of group.

Citizenship Marks: School citizenship is estimated by the teacher on the basis of student's respect for school regulations, cooperation with others, pride in the school or class, courtesy or sportsmanship, reliability, and sense of responsibility.

Five numerical values rate citizenship:

- "1" describes a pupil who is a good citizen of the school and of his class. He observes school regulations with a willing, co-operative spirit, and tries to cultivate a right attitude on the part of other pupils. He applies the rules of considerate treatment of pupils, teachers, caretakers, and visitors. He is kindly, cheerful, and helpful in class. He can be depended upon to meet responsibilities, he does not have to be watched, and he exhibits stability of character.
- "2" shows a noticeable tendency toward "1".
- "3" describes the passive pupil who is an average citizen, neither contributes to the success of the school community, nor prevents the success of school activities.
- "4" describes a student who has a noticeable tendency toward type "5".
- "5" describes the pupil who is aggressively unsatisfactory as a school citizen. He frequently and deliberately breaks school regulations, and appears to find satisfaction in doing so. He refuses to do teamwork in class or school activities; he makes little contribution to the school even when given the opportunity. He is frequently the cause of adverse criticism of the school or class. He shows a definite lack of courtesy in his treatment of pupils, teachers, caretakers, and visitors. He must be watched by teachers in order to insure his orderly conduct. He is easily tempted to create disorder.

The Senior Class, which winds up its high school career next June, has voted to publish a high school annual this year and preliminary steps have been taken (Continued from first page)

Postoffice Dedication November 11

Armistice Day will have a double significance in Grayling in that it has been selected to mark the dedication of Grayling's new Post Office. Plans are underway to celebrate the event with appropriate ceremonies.

Director of Procurement of the United States Treasury of Washington D. C., has appointed Mayor Burke as honorary chairman. A complete program of the day's doings will be announced in our next issue.

The interior walls and woodwork are being finished at the present time and the building will be ready for the dedication on the date set aside for it.

GRIFFITH-GYDE

Miss Donna Marie Griffith became the bride of Mr. Edward Gyde at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of the groom's parents at Higgins Lake. Mrs. Gyde is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Griffith of Grayling and Mr. Gyde is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gyde of Higgins Lake.

The Rev. Edgar Flory performed the ceremony before the fireplace which was banked with autumn leaves and green boughs. The bride was dressed in royal blue transparent velvet and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gust of Grayling and Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of Detroit.

The ceremonies were followed by a dinner served to some forty relatives and friends, after which the couple left on a short honeymoon trip in the north. On their return they are making their home at Higgins Lake.

The bride is a graduate of Grayling High School and the groom has become well and favorably known here. Friends extended congratulations and best wishes.

Important Izaak Walton Meeting

The next meeting of the Izaak Walton League will be held in the court chambers of the Court house at 8:30 p. m., Nov. 4. Many questions of conservation will come up at this meeting which should be of interest to all Crawford county citizens. Various members of the local chapter have from time to time offered some good suggestions that should be considered and such members are invited to be present and submit them before this meeting.

Our Izaak Walton Chapter has made progressive strides in the ten months that they have been organized and through their efforts, all civic projects are now being sponsored through this organization. They have through their efforts, organized our new Chamber of Commerce and the Winter Sports Association is functioning within the local Chapter. The organization of the new Grayling Civic committee which acts as an advisory committee to the Izaak Walton League, has proven an effective committee and more will be heard from them in the future.

It is hoped that a good attendance will be on hand for the meeting November 4th. Remember, if you have not been requested to join the Izaak Walton League Chapter, it is not because you are not wanted as a member, but because the membership committee has been too busy to get around to see all.

Children in Court

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Thousands of small cities and villages continue to have high per capita juvenile crime rates simply because they refuse to supervise and direct the recreational activities of their young men and women into harmless and healthful channels.

Boys enjoy the spirit that motivates the gang and cannot be housed in the back yard. There is little need to attempt to break up a group of youngsters for they invariably congregate in out of the way places. To deal out harsh punishment to a boy who insists on meeting his friends does not solve the problem but causes him to become hardened and bitter toward life. Unless such districts provide supervised recreation for their youth, they will continue to provide Dillingers for the large cities to cope with.

Judges recognize that fear is one of the most important emotions and frequently determines the future success or failure of children. Many men and women today are chained by fear to a life of drudgery when they could be in positions of responsibility and honor.

The importance of this subject was revealed last week when a mere boy was committed to a state hospital for the insane. As a small youngster, his relatives had amused themselves by watching his reactions when they related stories of ghosts, or explained frightful and gruesome incidents of murders and hangings.

STREAMLINED FERRY BOAT FOR STRAITS

For the second time in a year State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner this week pondered over bids for the construction of a streamlined, end-loading ferry for service at the Straits of Mackinac.

The low bid of $1,625,280 was submitted on the boat by the Great Lakes Engineering Works, of River Rouge, with a completion date of 10 1/2 months. DeJoy Boat & Motor Works, of Bay City, was the only other bidder with a bid of $1,646,800 with completion in twelve months.

Commissioner Van Wagoner reserved his decision and planned to study the bids carefully. A year ago there was only one bidder and its bid of $1,600,000 was rejected as "excessive" by the commissioner. At that time specifications called for ice-crushing features subsequently eliminated from the plans.

Specifications for the proposed new boat call for a capacity of 150 vehicles. Its overall length would be 372 feet. It would be all welded construction and powered by Diesel motors.

Opening Day!

MICHIGAN SENT a record army of pheasant hunters into the field this year in answer to the opening of the season—and that army reported unusual success along all fronts. These pictures were taken in Michigan's Thumb region which again offered exceptional hunting.

HAZEN "KIKI" CUYLER, veteran National League outfielder studies his trusty club that has rattled out a lifetime average well above the coveted .300 mark, but lays it aside in favor of his shotgun. Yes, bird season is back again! Now here's a warning, Mr. Pheasant, remember "Kiki" is equally proficient with ball bat and shotgun.

BUT Mr. Pheasant is not quite fast enough and within an hour after the season opens, "Kiki" smiles as he displays his limit of two Leeper County pheasants while his fine setter snubs the camera-man with a sophisticated tilt of his proud head.

EVEN newspapers are forgotten! E. W. "Bub" Chapelle, Harrisville publisher, dashes from the north into lucrative pheasant areas when the season opens—and with his shotgun and dogs makes possible this photographic editorial.

GEORGE B. TALBOT of Saginaw turns his back on the oil fields when it is time to get the shotgun out. Enhancing the picture is one of Dr. E. G. Week's championship setters. Yes, you guessed it, Doc was standing nearby when the picture was taken, for he's one of Saginaw's most ardent sportsmen and wouldn't even consider missing the pheasant opening.

The Nickel Mostly Copper
The American nickel contains three times as much copper as nickel. Nearly 3,000,000 pounds of copper are used annually in minting United States coins, including gold and silver pieces. The familiar penny, or "copper," is really made of bronze, containing 85 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin and zinc, according to the Copper and Brass Research association.

Howell, vice-president of the Michigan Press association who acted as toastmaster and W. J. Antell of Brooklyn, who was 1936 president of the E.M.T.A.

KIWANIS CLUB ENJOY HAL-LOWEEN PARTY

Gay with Halloween decorations, the Hayloft, Wednesday evening was the scene of a very pleasant dancing party with the members of the Kiwanis Club and their ladies as guests. The Melody Makers of Lake City furnished the music with the addition of the "musical saw" played by Archie Cripps, which attracted much favorable comment. The dancers proved that they still could get a big kick out of the square dances, the old fashioned dreamy waltz and circle-two-steps. Everyone there had a real time and they hope the club may plan for a similar affair in the future.

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

By JEAN

THE people who always have to have two seats apiece whenever they ride two miles on a train . . . we could crown them.

Sometimes, we'll admit we envy them. We've tried ourselves by stacking magazines and hats and umbrellas all around us, to discourage people from trying to sit with us. But somehow a mother with a baby, or an old lady with a cane, always comes along and looks wistfully at our pile of belongings. And we're finished. By the end of the journey we're holding the baby or the cane.

So maybe it's sour grapes. But we've come to the conclusion that one seat is all a person with one ticket should try to fill. And the people who spread themselves out so comfortably over two should be firmly handled. If by scornful look, or gentle questioning we can't make them budge, we intend to sit right down on their feet, or their hats. That ought to teach them.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By Roger B. Whitman

SMALL COAL SIZES

BECAUSE of the demand, stove size coal sells at a higher price than nut coal and pea coal, which are smaller. There is, of course, a desire to use these smaller sizes because of economy. Under certain conditions this is quite possible, although if the conditions are not met, coal gas is produced. This may result in puffs and even small explosions in the fire-box, or the passing of the coal gas through the house.

With coal of stove size and larger, the spaces between the lumps permit the free passage of air, and coal gas is burned off as fast as it is produced. The flickering blue flame above a bed of fresh coal is burning coal gas.

A strong chimney draft may pull air through a bed of packed coal, but if there are thin places, air will rush through them with the effect of a blacksmith's forge. This is a cause of clinking. Forced draft is sometimes used through an electric blower that forces air into the ash-pit. With this there is also the possibility of clinking. But there is also a risk of coal gas trouble. If the fire has been stoked some little time before the blower is turned on, the space above the coal bed becomes filled with coal gas; then, with the starting up of the blower, sparks passing through will ignite the gas, and there may be an explosion. A blower is safe only with skillful stoking and with watchfulness.

When small sizes are used, stoking should be by what is called the "hot spot" method. The first step in stoking is to rake the glowing coals into a sloping bank with the top at the level of the firing door. This leaves a cavity at the back, which is filled with new coal. Gas that is produced is then ignited by the "hot spot."

While there is economy in buying coal of small size, there may not be economy in using it. Unless a furnace is adapted to it, much of the small coal will drop through the grates unburned. Besides that, much more attention is required in maintaining a good fire.

Salt Can Be Made Useless Matthew 23:17 reads: "Ye are the salt of the earth; but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men." Salt is a definite chemical combination of two elements, sodium and chloride, and cannot lose any of its flavor. But it can be rendered useless by mixing it with foreign matter. Perhaps that is the meaning of the loss of salt in the Bible story. In ancient times salt was the symbol of purity.

SAMMY JAY TOO EXCITED TO TALK STRAIGHT

SAMMY JAY was excited. Every one who heard him knew that, and everybody who was anywhere near heard him. They would have had to be stone deaf not to have. Sammy is just like some people—when he gets just a little excited he begins to talk in a loud voice. The more excited he gets the louder he talks. By and by, when he gets very much excited, he screams. That is what he was doing this beautiful spring morning, screaming as no one ever had heard him scream before. Indeed, he was so excited that his tongue couldn't go fast enough and tripped over his words and mixed things up so that no one could make out what he was trying to say.

"What's Got Into You, Sammy Jay?" Demanded Peter.

He came flying out of the Green Forest, flying as fast as he could make his wings go, and screaming at the top of his lungs. He saw Jimmy Skunk coming down the Lone Little Path and flew to meet him.

"He's a stranger and he's black!" screamed Sammy.

"Who's a stranger and who's black?" asked Jimmy.

"And he's got great big claws in his mouth!" continued Sammy.

Jimmy Skunk stopped short and stared very hard at Sammy Jay.

"Say that again," said he.

But just then Sammy caught sight of Peter Rabbit down by his dear Old Briar Patch. "Oh, I must tell Peter!" he screamed. "Peter! Peter! He's there! He's bigger than Farmer Brown's boy and he walks!" And all the time he was screaming this long before he was anywhere near the Old Briar Patch.

Jimmy Skunk was still staring after him and scratching his head in a puzzled kind of way, when along came Unc' Billy Possum.

Unc' Billy grinned as he looked over toward the Old Briar Patch.

"Mistah Jaybird's done gone crazy," said he. "He's done gone crazy in his head. Whoever heard of anybody with great big claws in his mouth?"

Now, Peter could make no more sense of what Sammy was saying than could Jimmy Skunk and Unc' Billy Possum.

"Who walks, Sammy Jay? Don't most people walk? What's got into you, Sammy Jay?" demanded Peter.

But Sammy couldn't keep still long enough to answer questions, and off he flew toward the Smiling Pool in search of Billy Mink and Jerry Muskrat and Grandfather Frog, and as he flew he still screamed in the same excited way, and Peter heard something about "long teeth" and "big feet," all of which was very perplexing, and, of course, made Peter very, very curious. He straightway started to hunt up Jimmy Skunk to see if Jimmy knew what it meant, and half way down the Lone Little Path he met Jimmy. With him was Unc' Billy Possum.

Peter's eyes were very wide open with wonder, and the first thing he said was: "What's the matter with Sammy Jay?"

Jimmy Skunk grinned and Unc' Billy shook his head sadly, though if Peter had looked sharply he would have seen a twinkle in Unc' Billy's eyes.

"Poor Sammy Jay," said Unc' Billy in the mournfullest tones.

"Poor Sammy Jay. He's foolish in his head, Peter. He's foolish in his head."

"Oh!" cried Peter. "Do you really think so, Unc' Billy? I thought he was just terribly excited."

Unc' Billy winked at Jimmy Skunk as he said: "Ah don't now, about the excitement, Br'er Rabbit, but when people talk about great big claws in somebody's mouth, Ah certainly think there is something the matter. If you ask me, Ah think Br'er Jay done gone crazy."

"Poor Sammy Jay," said Peter to himself, as he hopped away to find out what other people thought.

"Poor Sammy Jay! I guess Unc' Billy must be right and he really is crazy. He can't talk straight, so he must be crazy." And all the rest of that day Peter told everyone he met that Sammy Jay had gone crazy.

MICHIGAN IN LEAD IN ISSUANCE OF FISHING LICENSES

Michigan was far in the lead of all other states in the total number of fishing licenses issued in 1936, but ranked well down in the list in the proportionate amount of revenue received because of the low fishing-license fees in effect in this state.

These data are brought out in the annual report on fishing licenses and revenue released by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C.

Michigan's revenue was $425,844.50.

Resident licenses $520,814 Non-resident 35,522 Tourist 76,004

The total number of licenses sold in the United States was 5,832,448 and the total revenue was $8,002,887.31.

Safety education is a very important item in our schools today. It should be taught to all classes. Teaching or preaching safety, however, is not enough. If the only thing a child gets out of safety education is a bundle of facts he can recite to the teacher or visitors, I don't believe we have taught him a thing. He must "do" what he is being taught—he must do what people preach to him. A famous author once said "I have quit trying to be good, but I have not quit trying to do good."

That is the thought. Cultivate safe habits in the children through safety education. Safety education must, of course, be based on intelligence, facts, and ideals, but it must have coupled with that desirable and safe habits.

Safety education is a conception of life or a state of mind. It must, however, at the same time create a machine or a thought for building efficient and safe conduct.

"Star of the First Water" The limpidity and luster of a precious stone are sometimes referred to in this phrase; a diamond "of the first water" is one perfectly pure and transparent. By extension, almost anything of the highest quality may be spoken of as "of the first water"—but the phrase seems less applicable to a star.

January Floods Reveal Strength of Red Cross

Aid Given 1,062,000 Persons Through Set-Up By Agency

The elasticity and scope of Red Cross disaster work is shown in a recent report on Red Cross relief measures during the unparalleled Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood of this year.

At the height of the emergency Red Cross relief offices were established in 182 inundated counties and in 146 counties where refugees were cared for, the report stated. Eight regional headquarters offices controlled the 328 county offices, and were in turn supervised by the National Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

A statistical summary of persons aided by the organization indicates that the floods constituted the greatest peace-time emergency ever faced by the nation. The Red Cross gave some form of assistance to 1,062,000 men, women and children. From January to August hundreds of thousands of volunteers administered to the sufferers.

A Red Cross rescue fleet of 5400 boats was organized, according to the report. Emergency hospitals established totaled 300 and 3600 nurses were assigned to flood duty. In more than 1,000 refugee centers the victims of the flood were sheltered, clothed and fed. Through the Red Cross medical-health program and the work of public health agencies sickness was kept to normal for the time of year in all inundated areas.

Because of its disaster experience the Red Cross was directed by the President of the United States, who is also president of the Red Cross, to coordinate the effort of all federal flood relief groups. Government and Red Cross officials met daily at the Red Cross headquarters building in Washington to plan relief measures and prevent duplication of effort.

"We were fortunate in having 50 years of disaster relief experience to call upon in meeting the emergency," Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, said.

It was found that 97,000 families composed of 436,000 persons had to have their resources supplemented or an entirely new start provided by the Red Cross, the report stated. Red Cross emergency and rehabilitation assistance was as follows: rescue, transportation and shelter for 62,000 families; food, clothing and other maintenance for 193,000 families; building and repair for 27,000 families; household goods for 90,000 families; medical, nursing and sanitation help for 15,000 families; agricultural rehabilitation for 10,000 families; other occupational aid for 3,000 families and other types of relief for 4,000 families.

"Credit for this largest peace-time relief operation in the history of the nation must go to the American people who contributed a Red Cross relief fund of more than $25,000,000," Admiral Grayson said.

During the year the Red Cross gave aid to the victims of 105 other disasters in 38 states, Alaska and the District of Columbia. The Red Cross financed the majority of these relief operations from money contributed through memberships during the annual Roll Call last November, since it is only in case of large-scale disasters that a national drive for relief funds is made.

This year the Roll Call is from November 11th to the 25th. The Red Cross seeks a greater membership to meet its disaster relief and other service obligations during 1938.

Last year Red Cross Chapters gave vital help to 120,000 needy families.

Red Cross Replaces Farm Family Losses

The Red Cross gave agricultural rehabilitation to 10,116 farm families following the severe eastern floods of last winter. Types of aid included feed, seed, livestock, farm tools and machinery and other items essential to agricultural productivity. More than $599,000 was expended by the organization to meet these requirements.

In addition to occupational assistance, rural families hard hit by the flood waters were rescued, clothed, fed and sheltered by the Red Cross. Where it was necessary the Red Cross repaired and rebuilt out-buildings, barns and other structures. Medical and nursing care were provided and homes refurbished.

Red Cross agricultural rehabilitation benefited nearly three times as many families as received all other types of Red Cross occupational rehabilitation combined.

Last year the Red Cross introduced an accident check list to 7,000,000 American homes. The list told how hazards in the home might be eliminated and the work of inspection was done by householders themselves. A like program of home accident prevention is being conducted this year.

Jews Are Fighting for a Homeland

PICTURE PARADE

Ready at any moment to defend the strip which he is trying to convert to fertility is the Jewish settler of the Jezreel valley.

FIVE or six million Jews, uprooted by dictatorships and tossed about by economic storms, may have to depend upon the development of the Holy Land, under British mandate, as a solution to their difficulties. But they face the hostility of the Arabs living there, whose economic and religious interests conflict with theirs.

In North Palestine the Jews fence themselves in armed settlements as a protection against marauding Arab bands, while they try to work the poor land. With Britain anxious to get rid of her mandate, and with enemies in nearly every corner of the world, these "people without a country" are in a sorry plight.

The life is not an easy one, by any means. Back-breaking labor is not made any more bearable by constant threat of pillage and death.

Settlers must carry rifles while working the swamp-infested plain.

Men and women take turns in guard duty behind the barbed-wire fence which protects the settlers from the raiding Arabs. A woman sentry is pictured here. Note her studious appearance, determined look and mannish military dress.

The Arabs Are Coming

The dreaded Mohammedan raiders have been sighted by a neighbor settler, who immediately set up a signal. From her position in a high tower, this lookout follows them with powerful glasses.

The searchlight in this tower is the settlers' only means of communication.

The Senior class selected its flower, colors, and motto at a class meeting held last week. Committees were appointed by President John Henry Peterson at an earlier meeting and the committees made their reports. From their suggestions the class selected its choices:

Flower—Yellow Rose Committee. Laura Johnson, Naomi Wheeler.

Colors—Black and Gold Committee. Dorothea Morris, Norberta Weiss.

Motto—"Today We Follow Tomorrow We Lead." Committee. Keith Bowen, Jerine Peterson.

If you see a bigger smile than usual on the face of Miss Dorr, the High School commercial teacher, it's probably due to the progress being made by the typing classes. Of the twenty-nine students who started typing twenty words a minute or over inside of six weeks. Five students typed over twenty words a minute, and three of them made no more than four errors in a five minute test. This is remarkable progress for beginners. Laura Johnson rattled the keys at a rate of twenty-six words a minute, making only four mistakes. Katherine Carr, Beatrice Peterson, Jerine Peterson, and Emil Tahvonen were the others who did twenty words or better. This group of students have gained as much as eight words per minute in a single week.

The second year typists are led by Frances Entsminger who typed forty-four words a minute in the five minute test and made but a single error.

The Canal Zone
The Canal Zone is a strip of land extending five miles on either side of the axis of the Panama canal, but not including the cities of Panama or Colon. The port at the Caribbean entrance, formerly a part of Colon, is Cristobal, and that at the Pacific entrance is Balboa, while to the east of Panama is the residential town of Ancon, the location of the governor's house.

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

By JEAN

On The Manners Moment

I DON'T know why it's considered so terrible to drop a hairpin into one's soup. But that's neither here nor there, for from all that we can gather dropping hairpins into soup just isn't right. Sometimes, however, a hairpin drops from an animated head without warning. And then the big problem is what to do about it.

If you're lucky you may have a gay young blade sitting beside you who can think up a smart quip about tin in the soup instead of soup in the tin, or something like that, and you can retrieve your hairpin under a cloud of merriment. If, however, your dinner partner hasn't seen the catastrophe it's best to try to continue sipping your soup as though nothing had happened. Then you can keep your eye on him until he starts gesticulating with his soup spoon to some one on the other side. That is your moment. With a swift motion you can then pull the hairpin out. And if some one catches you at it just say it's a habit with you. You always get the cherry out of the bottom of the glass.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

CONDENSATION ON WALLS AND CEILINGS

ALTHOUGH the air in a house may seem dry during the heating season, there are times when there will be enough moisture in it to cause condensation. The effect may not be recognized as coming from condensation, although there can be no other explanation.

For an example, I was once asked to explain the continual peeling of calcimine on the ceiling of a downstairs hall. The door to the kitchen was at one end of the hall, and it was on that part of the ceiling that the peeling was worst. The reason was obvious. The kitchen air was damp from cooking and also from the water vapor produced by the burning of gas in the range. This damp and warm air rose and passed out into the hall along the ceiling. The ceiling plaster being comparatively cool, there was condensation against it, and it was this dampening of the calcimine that caused peeling. One possible cure was to put a ventilator in an upper part of one of the kitchen windows; an electric fan to draw the kitchen air outdoors. Another was to replace the calcimine on the ceiling with enamel or with waterproof paint.

Condensation is a very usual reason for the peeling of calcimine and paint on ceilings. It is particularly likely on upstairs ceilings under an unheated attic. The ceilings are damp, moisture in the air condenses against them, and peeling follows. This moisture may come from kitchen and laundry work, from steam from hot baths and showers, from over-use of a humidifier and other causes.

The pattern of lath, so often seen on upstairs ceilings, is one effect of condensation. Moisture, picked up by the plaster, dries off quickly in the spaces between laths, but much less quickly in the plaster over a lath; dust collects and is held by the dampness, and the pattern of the lathing becomes evident.

TUBERCULOSIS DEATH RATE SHOWS INCREASE IN COUNTY

Crawford county is one of several in Michigan whose 1936 death rate from tuberculosis shows an increase over that of 1935, statistics compiled by the State Department of Health reveal. Discussing this week the need for a continued vigorous anti-tuberculosis campaign, Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, deplored the fact that in a state where there exist such splendid outdoor facilities, as well as fully-equipped sanatoriums, the tuberculosis mortality rate increased rather than decreased sharply as one would expect.

"In Crawford county the increase of two tuberculosis deaths as reported by the statistics needs no particular emphasis," Mr. Werle said. "We should not treat lightly, however, the fact that a few deaths in a number of counties has raised the mortality rate for the entire state," he pointed out. "A difference of even two deaths should stimulate local interest in Christmas seal financed anti-tuberculosis projects because the number of tuberculosis deaths should have been less."

County-wide tuberculosis clinics are a particularly important unit of anti-tuberculosis campaigns," he emphasized. "They bring two modern weapons of early discovery—the tuberculin test and the X-ray—within the reach of everyone."

"The tuberculin test, a simple injection of harmless fluid just beneath the outer layer of skin, shows within a few hours whether or not there is any infection," Mr. Werle explained. "Then the X-ray, its magic eye penetrating into the interior of the chest, determines the seriousness of the infection. It is the X-ray which picks out those whose disease needs immediate attention—those people," he declared, "whose lives are threatened unless they are hospitalized and their disease arrested. Tuberculosis clinics of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association contribute to that end."

"Tuberculosis comes from tuberculosis," Mr. Werle emphasized. "Every tuberculous person spreads the disease to people with whom he is closely associated. The contacts, in turn, are capable of a further transmission. Anti-tuberculosis organizations are making concentrated efforts to break the chain of transmission and eventually lowering the tuberculosis death rate. The work of such organizations is made possible through the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals."

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association will distribute 62,200,000 of the tiny tuberculosis Christmas seals in the state this year. The thirty-first annual campaign will be officially opened on Thanksgiving Day and will be continued to Christmas.

ICE AND SNOW ON THE WAY: HIGHWAY OFFICIALS READY

Above—Plows like this rapidly and effectively clear the snow from Michigan roads

Above—Drums of chemically treated sand are provided near hills and other danger spots, for emergency use by truckers and motorists
Right—An ice patrol truck, loaded with treated grits and equipped with a mechanical spreader

WHEN winter comes—and it won't be long now—motorists will again find the Michigan State Highway Department and the county road organizations "on the job," fully prepared for the annual battle against snow and ice.

In commenting on the state's winter maintenance plans, Murray D. Van Wagoner, Highway Commissioner, recently stated, "Every mile of the 9000 mile state highway system is included in the snow removal and ice control program."

Preparation for this complete maintenance program has been underway since early fall. Snowplows, trucks and spreaders have been overhauled and repaired, snow fences erected at needed locations, and stockpiles of ice control materials, treated with calcium chloride, provided at strategic points along the highways. The chemical treatment prevents freezing of the sand and under stockpiles and creates a melting action which enables the grits to embed themselves securely when spread on icy pavements.

The state this year is purchasing an additional number of mechanical spreaders, to permit speedier application and more uniform distribution of the sand and clinders. Two years ago, Commissioner Van Wagoner ordered the sanding of main trunk lines over the entire length of the roads, and this practice will remain in effect during the coming season. Skidproofing treatment will also be applied to all curves, hills and intersections on the less heavily travelled routes.

The state legislature has made an additional and special appropriation of $200,000 for snow removal in sections having an annual snowfall of 60 inches or more, so the fight against snow will be even more intensive this year than ever before. Several types and sizes of snowplows are used by the departments, depending upon the amount of snow to be removed. Immediately when snow starts falling, day or night, the lighter high speed plows are dispatched in all directions to keep roads clear. However, when snow falls heavily and blizzards develop, the heavy duty trucks or rotary plows, capable of overcoming almost any size snowdrift, are sent into action.

Michigan's state and county highway departments are virtually "winter life-savers," for thousands of lives are saved each year through their efficient ice control and snow removal systems. All the departments ask of motorists is that they exercise reasonable caution when snow falls or ice forms and, when possible, allow the highway forces an hour's start before venturing onto the highways.
